Town Ends Year With $4000 Surplus

Mayor John Holyk, at council meeting this week, made the pleasing announcement, that the town, after having met its obligations during the year's business, had wound up with a $4,000 surplus.

Announcement was made that the Centennial Caravan would be visiting Coleman on May 11 and plans were now well underway for a carnival to be sponsored by the Elks and Lions Clubs. Plans for additional entertainment during the Caravan's visit are also well underway. Council approved underwriting Centennial expenses incurred up to a maximum of $500.

Councillor Mel Cornett suggested that the town as a Centennial project should give consideration to erecting name and number signs for the streets in Coleman and a house numbering project should also be initiated. This matter was felt by council to be an excellent suggestion and will be brought up at next meeting.

A discussion was held on insurance appraisals being made by various firms of the town's buildings and equipment, and council decided to set up their own values for their properties and then put their insurance needs out for tender.

The matter of installing an Alberta Government Telephone system to handle local fire calls was discussed and filed and a local person is to be hired to take the fire calls.

Council approved eliminating the bi-weekly utility meetings so that councilmen would have the occasional free evening. At present the council meet at regular council meetings the first and third Tuesday of each month and at utility meetings the second and fourth Tuesdays.

Council will now meet on their regular meeting nights, but will commence at 6:30 p.m. and have the utility meetings before the regular council session.

The secretary - treasurer, Dick Jensen was instructed to proceed with the tax sale on March 28. He was also instructed to take the necessary action to collect delinquent business tax.

Approval was given to the Junior Forest Wardens to plant trees in the vicinity of the Lions Community hall. Mel Cornett of the Forestry Department will supervise this project.

Mel Cornett of the town's library board presented the library's financial statement that indicated the institution had again enjoyed a successful year.

In other council business foreman Hector Pivovar was commended for the excellent work he did in clearing town streets of snow during the recent blizzard; approved putting locks on the cemetery gates and installing turnstiles or "V" gates for persons wishing to go into the cemetery; request James Burger of the Chinook Health Unit to inspect several residences with a view to having them condemned, and approved payment of $878 on the Chinook Health Unit requisition.

Junior Forest Wardens Host Fathers At Annual Banquet

Approximately 20 fathers enjoyed a delicious turkey and ham dinner as guests of their sons on the evening of February 11th.

The event was attended by more than 60 Dads and Lads and Guests. The visitor list included Mr. Tom Hamilton and Mr. Jim Green of the Lethbridge J.F.W. Club; and Mr. Alf Longworth, superintendent of the Crows Nest Forestry District, who was guest speaker for the evening, and local council members and officers, Del Hereford, Orasio Celli, Ed Dase and John Dean.

Mr. Longworth, in his most interesting and challenging talk, suggested the boys encourage their fathers to participate with them in outdoor activities by preparing a detailed plan of a proposed outing. In doing this, Mr. Longworth explained, the boys would be showing the concerned adults that they were aware of the important facts which must be considered when enjoying the outdoors.

The highlight of the evening for the boys was the presentation of the awards to those who had obtained the highest number of merits during the past season.

The merit system reflects the best attendance, participation, examination marks and behavior in the club.

Winner of the first prize, an Icelandic sleeping bag, was Gary Nelson. The second prize, a pair of hiking boots, donated by the Coleman Hotel, was won by Larry Nelson. Leland Marcel took 3rd prize which was a fishing tackle box with a good supply of tackle from Rudy's Texaco.

Robert Aiello and Glen Wikstrom tied for fourth place, receiving a radar light from Modern Electric and a Russell belt knife from the club.

Fifth prize went to Tim Juhlin, who received a gift certificate from Mr. Vern Decoux.

A hearty vote of thanks is extended to all the mothers who helped to make the evening supper possible.

The cost of providing a man with a place to work, machinery and tools at General Motors of Canada is estimated to be in excess of $18,000.

Salus Heads New Division Board

John Salus of Coleman Sub-District No. 1 was appointed as chairman to head the new first board of trustees to head the newly-established Crows Nest Pass School Division No. 63.

Grant Hall of Blairmore Sub-Division No. 2 was appointed as vice-chairman and John Albizzati of Blairmore was named secretary-treasurer. Alex Wells, chartered accountant, of Blairmore, was appointed as auditor.

A. Matson of Pincher Creek, will continue his duties as superintendent of the new division until the end of June, 1967, when the government will appoint a superintendent. Meantime the board will advertise for a principal designate.

A negotiations and agreement committee was formed comprising John Lloyd of Blairmore sub-division No. 2, Nora Goulding of Coleman sub-division No. 1 and Joseph Krywolt of Frank, representing sub-division No. 3.

The new board will apply for membership in the Lethbridge Junior College body and John Lloyd will represent the local division.

Application is to be made to the Minister of Education authorizing the board to hire a music supervisor and a supervisor of guidance.

C.W.L. To Sponsor "Bakeless" Sale

The Coleman C.W.L. at its monthly meeting announced that the group would hold a "Bakeless Sale" this spring instead of the regular spring tea.

Plans were discussed for the group's project of sponsoring 12 eastern Canada exchange students this summer. A similar number of students from this area will travel to eastern Canada on the plan.

Members agreed to again undertake the annual Red Cross campaign for funds in Coleman to be held during the month of March.

Announcement was made that the annual fall bazaar will be held October 31st.

The C.W.L. will participate in arranging for entertainment during the visit of the Centennial Caravan in Coleman May 11.

The attendance prize was won by Donna Oliva.

Safety Council Members Recipients of Safety Scrolls

Seventeen of the 33 member-units of the Petro-chemical Safety Council (Southern Section) were presented with safety scrolls for operating accident-free throughout 1966. The scroll won by the Saratoga Processing Co. Ltd. Coleman Plant was presented to field safety supervisor S. Mott, right, by R. C. Davis, left, safety director for the Workmen's Compensation Board. Presentation was made at the Council's First Annual Awards Night held in Calgary on January 31.

Mrs. Smith was born in Newmarket, Ont. on November 8, 1884, and came to Coleman in February 1912, where she has resided since.

Prayers will be held in Faintins Chapel at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 23. Requiem High Mass will be celebrated in the Holy Ghost Catholic Church at 11:00 a.m. on Friday, Feb. 24. Remains to be forwarded to Barrie, Ont. for interment in the family plot at St. Mary's Catholic Cemetery. Faintins Chapel will be in charge of arrangements.

Socreds Support Candidate

Charles Drain, contractor of Blairmore, Alberta, Social Credit candidate for the Pincher Creek - Crows Nest Social Credit constituency has been re-endorsed as candidate by the executive and council at a meeting held February 16, 1967, at Cowley, Alberta.

Following the convention in which there were some rumors and misunderstanding as to the eligibility of voters, Mr. Orvis Kennedy, Social Credit League president of Edmonton, Alberta, was requested to attend the meeting to clarify the position of the convention.

After much discussion, the meeting, which was well attended by executive members from all parts of the constituency, passed by an overwhelming majority a vote of confidence in the action of the convention, and in their candidate Charles Drain.

All members expressed enthusiasm on the reception they were receiving in all parts of the Pincher Creek - Crows Nest Social Credit constituency.

The meeting adjourned resolved, that Charles Drain, the candidate to be the next M.L.A., to represent this constituency in the Alberta Legislature.

F. S. Ratford, Constituency president, chaired the meeting.

Centennial Plans Well Underway

Plans are now well underway in Coleman for the Centennial Caravan's visit to town on May 11th.

At a meeting held in the town hall last week-end, Mrs. Doreen Colwell was nominated chairman for the program committee to be assisted by D. McGregor, O. Krug, A. Berlin, L. Troz, A. Wright, H. Hopkins, D. MacQuarrie, Henry Zak, G. Atkinson, F. Capron, H. Allen and Mrs. J. Holyk.

Mrs. D. MacQuarrie reported that the Rybak Lodge was in favor of sponsoring a pot luck supper on May 11 and Mrs. J. Bodsch indicated the ladies of the Italian Society would assist with this event. Mrs. M. Moore also pledged the support of the C.W.L.

The event, it was suggested, could be a smorgasbord style with foodstuffs to be donated. A nominal charge would be made for the supper which would be held from 4 to 6 p.m. Mrs. Moore was nominated as chairman of this event to be aided by Mrs. J. Dick.

Included in some of the suggestions being considered by various groups for the Caravan week-end and Centennial year are having car stickers made to advertise Coleman, erect and light a monument of flames being provided by Coleman Collieries on top of Saskatchewan Mountain in the shape of a large "67", clean up and reseed the local cemeteries after which the town would maintain them, a clean-up and paint-up of the town.

The meeting commended James Atkinson for the large colorful electric lighted Centennial Star he has built and erected in his yard facing highway 3. As a result of Mr. Atkinson's ingenuity, Mayor Holyk suggested the town have another star built and erected near the Lions "Biggest Piggy Bank in the World". Mr. Atkinson volunteered his services for this work with the town to provide the materials required.

The Royal Purple will conduct a Fashion Show on Caravan Day, and local participation in this event is invited.

The Elks and Lions will join ranks to sponsor a giant carnival to be held in the Coleman arena on the Caravan Day weekend and the high school is practicing at present to present a tumbling display in the school for the Caravan Day.

Grades four to seven in the local schools are preparing a number of choral selections to be offered at the events to be held in the school. Attempts are being made to organize an All-Nations dance program for the school program.

Draw for the man's suit or $85 cash prize being sponsored by the Athletic Association, will be made during the evening.

Coleman residents are urged to turn out for this special event.

LITTLE BLACK BOX TO REPLACE BACKSEAT DRIVER

The age of electronics is breathing down the neck of the backseat driver with a little black box of transistors and other modern gawags, reports Canadian Electronics Engineering. Called DAIR (for Driver Aid, Information and Routing), this latest product of General Motors researchers can perform four main tasks: (1) Provide voice and coded communications to summon aid for a disabled vehicle or obtain information about road conditions and routes; (2) Receive voice messages about traffic conditions and emergency situations on the road ahead; (3) Give a visual presentation inside the vehicle of roadside traffic signs; (4) Provide visual directions to guide a driver along a pre-programmed route. New models should be available soon (at reasonable cost), replacing original models created in the Garden of Eden.

The Legislature(By Garth A. Turcott, M.L.A.)
As an informed public is one of the keystones of democracy, I intend to try and write a weekly report of the happenings in the Legislature during the current session.

It is my intention to try and keep these reports informal, interesting, and as far as possible, impartial. I have succeeded in any or all of these aims.

The session opened on Thursday, February 9th with great pomp and ceremony. Two bands played, guards marched, and cannon boomed a salute in honor of the Lieutenant-Governor.

The Legislative Building was decorated with beautiful bouquets of flowers which complimented the ladies' spring hats and dresses.

The Lieutenant-Governor was escorted into the chamber by the Premier and a special military honor guard. I was pleased to see George Lynch-Staunton, formerly of Pincher Creek, in the official party, and also to meet Joe Malanuk, who attended the opening.

The Lieutenant-Governor was dressed in a most splendid uniform covered with gold braid and completed with a great cockaded hat and a sword. It is a measure of the man's warmth and good humor that he only smiled broadly when his hat was knocked over his eyes and his sword tried to trip him when he sat down.

The Speech from the Throne was quite long and outlined in general terms of the Government's proposed legislation for the coming year.

On Friday the main business of the session began and your member attempted to speak on a question of privilege arising out of the events of the special sitting in November. During the November sitting I requested the adjournment of the House to inquire into certain alleged improprieties on behalf of two cabinet ministers as reported in the Edmonton Journal and the Calgary Herald. The Premier stated at that time that these newspaper reports were merely "malicious gossip," and the Leader of the Opposition suggested that unless I proved the allegations mentioned in the newspaper reports then I would be expected to resign my seat in the Legislature.

It is one of the rules in Parliament that a point of privilege must be raised at the earliest possible opportunity, which accounts for the fact that I attempted to raise it on the first day of the sittings. However, on the Premier's objection, Mr. Speaker ruled that I could not make a speech on a point of privilege.

The debate on the reply to the Speech from the Throne then began with the Government members describing the speech and the proposed legislation in glowing terms while the members of the Opposition pointed out the deficiencies in the Government's legislative program. The Leader of the Opposition proposed an amendment to the Speech from the Throne which was supported by the five Opposition members but overwhelmingly defeated by the 58 Government members.

On Wednesday I, as your member, took part in the debate and at that time tabled a series of documents which, in my opinion, clearly establish the need for an inquiry into the conduct of the cabinet ministers concerned. The matter is to be considered further after copies of the documents have been made available to all of the members.

The debate on the Speech from the Throne continued until Friday night, with the Government introducing a number of bills during each day of the session, including a major revision of the Highway Traffic Act and a new Securities Act.

On Friday afternoon Joan and I were packed and ready to leave for Pincher Creek as soon as the sittings adjourned at 5:30. However, the Premier announced that there would be an evening sitting commencing at 8:00 o'clock so that the Provincial Treasurer could bring down his budget. This outlines the Government's proposed spending program for the coming year and also how it proposes to raise the money to meet this program.

Of interest to residents of this constituency is the fact that four more senior citizens' homes are to be built in the coming year, and since such a home was promised for the Crowmest Pass by the Minister of Welfare during the by-election campaign, I believe that it is reasonable to assume that a senior citizens' home will be built in the Crowmest Pass during the coming year.

I received numerous letters during the first week of the sittings and regret that I was unable to answer all of them, but will do so this coming week, time permitting. As mentioned, all questions and problems are welcome, and should be addressed to me in care of The Legislative Building, Edmonton, Alberta.

Report From Parliament Hill

(Lawrence E. Kind, M.P.)

Jan. 30, 1967.
As it appears at the moment, perhaps the most important and far-reaching piece of legislation in many years, is Bill C-231, an act to define and implement a national transportation policy for Canada.

Railroad abandonment procedure is covered, and a new commission with wide powers has been created to handle regulatory matters concerning railroads, airlines, pipelines and trucking. Before any railroad is abandoned, there must be a public hearing.

This act is voluminous and required our best effort for many weeks. It was before the House of Commons Committee on Transportation for nearly three months where over 40 amendments were added. It was also on the floor of the House of Commons for about 15 days. Very little is written up by newspapers on an important piece of legislation like this, because reporters do not know too much about the economic details and they are more inclined to write up something sensational, in order to sell daily newspapers.

Originally, the bill had a clause directing the new commission to make a study of the Crown's Pass freight rates. The purpose back of this was to create a situation for the railroads to obtain government subsidies for hauling grain. The clause was defeated in Committee on the grounds that the railroads were given land along the rights-of-way and mineral rights for a contract in perpetuity to haul grain at rates set under the Crown's Pass agreement. Costs have lowered for the railroads - instead of a crew handling 15 or 20 cars, the same crew now transports 100 loaded cars, and so cost must be lower, but figures obtained from the railroads are not reliable as a basis for paying subsidies.

There are many things in the new act that I do not like, but it was the best compromise we were able to obtain for the people of Canada, and, in particular, for the farmers of Western Canada.

PUTTING FISH IN BASEMENT SAVED SIX HOURS A WEEK

On the subject of executive time saving, Editor Ed Trefak of Building Supply Dealer, suggests moving distractions from offices. He quotes one executive who had a selfish stuffed, mounted and hung in his office. Everyone who called spent 20 minutes admiring the fish, asking how it was caught and relating their own fishing exploits. The executive had it moved to his basement and saved an estimated six hours a week. The report doesn't state what he did with the six hours.

A WEEKLY LOOK AT EXP. '67

(By Tracy S. Ladington)

There is one question that will be asked thousands of times a day and in many languages at Expo 67 from April 28th to October 27th and it is "Where will we eat?"

Never, anywhere, have there been so many opportunities for appetizing answers.

You could spend a whole week at the International Carrefour in the La Ronde amusement area, eating at a different national restaurant each night.

For example Czechoslovakia will operate The Koliba, a roadside inn where roast goose, sucking pig and venison steak will turn on the spits over open-hearth fires. Many of the 70 nations at Expo are bringing their own chefs for their pavilion restaurants and a number will feature dining entertainment.

Then, of course, there will be the restaurants operated by Expo for the enjoyment of everyone, ranging from show-place dining-rooms featuring the most savory of finer foods to the informal snack bars for those who haven't the time to linger over a steak-smothered-in-mushrooms and a glass of a favorite beverage.

French — Canadian cuisine is known everywhere on this continent, just as French cuisine is renowned the world over — and the heart of some of the very best of French-Canadian cuisine is to be found in Montreal; with delicacies galore for the gourmet and the adventurous amateur alike.

Whether you fancy meats, fish, or fancy desert dishes, you never need look far at Expo for your favorites, according to the latest culinary report.

True, it isn't necessary to visit Expo to obtain the very finest in foods and beverages — but when one can visit Expo, see the many wonders of the world on display there, and step into the finest of restaurants right on the site, then proper eating adds to your enjoyment.

And the knowledge that good, pure food is available, sets your mind at rest, particularly if you are bringing children with you to Expo; and it is anticipated that children will be a very big part of the whole show — for as at Christmas, unless you see it all with the eyes of a child, some of your enjoyment will be lacking.

Restaurants are planned to suit every budget — from the ice-cream cone and the sandwich trade to those who know good food and know how to enjoy it.

A great deal of time and thought is being given to food at Expo and concessionaires won't lack a thing. From the outset, the slogan in this regard has been: Expo will protect concessionaires from disappointment and the public from abuse.

The prices and menus, Expo officials have stated, will be strictly controlled.

Who could ask for more? (Address correspondence to — Tracy S. Ladington, Expo 67, at 7005 Kildare Road, Montreal 22)

Report From Parliament Hill

(Lawrence E. Kindt, M.P.)

Feb. 13, 1967.

Armed Services Unification Bill—

The Armed Services Unification Bill, a lengthy, complex and far-reaching piece of legislation, is under consideration in the House of Commons.

Mr. Hellyer has consistently refused to answer nearly all of the important questions raised concerning this far-reaching measure, and the answers that he has given have been either so ambiguous or so vague that no one is any the wiser. What explanations have been given concerning this legislation have been hand-outs to the press by a squad of public relations men hired at the taxpayers' expense.

Because so little essential information has been made available concerning this Bill, the principal Opposition Parties were anxious to have the legislation referred to the Defence Committee before approving the Bill, in principle. This would have enabled witnesses to be called and questioned on any matter concerning the legislation.

It is very hard to give either approval or disapproval to a piece of legislation when so many of the essential facts are either unclear or unknown. The Minister, however, steadfastly refused to grant this very reasonable request.

During second reading of the Bill many questions were asked of the Minister himself. It has always been the custom of Parliament at the end of the debate on the second reading of ANY piece of legislation, for the Minister to close the debate and answer the points that have been raised by the Opposition. On this occasion the Minister sat back in his seat and refused to answer any of the questions that had been raised;— this is the first time in the many years that I have been in Parliament that I have ever seen any Minister take this attitude.

This behavior by Mr. Hellyer has been described by many as arrogant and contemptuous of Parliament, and has, of course, only succeeded in irritating the Opposition Parties. As a result, the Minister may expect many hard days ahead before his legislation is finished with his legislation.

"Teflon" Coated Ware:

Have you been using the new non-stick cookware coated with the fluorocarbon polymer "Teflon"?

They've been coming out with an ever-increasing range of items treated with this product, and many housewives are greeting them with open arms.

Dupont, which produced the original non-stick finish, gives us the following series of questions and answers on "Teflon" TFE non-stick finishes ("Teflon" is DuPont's registered trademark).

Question: Does a coating of Teflon really prevent food from sticking to a pan?

Answer: Yes, for most foods, but some foods do tend to cling, although they can be more easily removed from a non-stick pan than from one not coated with "Teflon".

Question: Are all non-stick utensils coated with "Teflon"?

Answer: No. Other coatings have been used by manufacturers to give cookware a slick surface. Several liquids that provide temporary improvement of release properties are available in aerosol cans for application by the homemaker.

Question: Is "Teflon" used only on aluminum pans?

Answer: No. Coatings of "Teflon" are being applied successfully to housewares made of aluminum, glass, cast iron, steel and combinations of materials.

Question: Is there any truth to rumors that "Teflon" on cookware can be dangerous to health?

Answer: No. Extensive tests by DuPont, the Food and Drug Administration and several French laboratories proved that use of "Teflon"-finished housewares is safe.

Question: Can fat or grease be used with "Teflon"-finished pans?

Answer: Yes. No grease is required to keep food from sticking and this is a definite advantage to people with fat-free diets. Actually most people prefer to use butter, grease or cooking oil for its contribution to flavor.

Question: Don't scratches on the finish ruin the pan?

Answer: No. Scratches may affect the neat appearance of the finish, but they make little or no difference in performance of the pan. Since "Teflon" finishes are so flexible, scratches do not open into wide gaps or cause chipping and peeling.

Question: Is it true that food cannot burn in a pan coated with "Teflon"?

Answer: No. Food burns in a pan finished with "Teflon" just as it does in other pans, if too much heat is used. Burned food does not stick to the pan, though.

I have one copy of the booklet "The Facts About Teflon" on housewares, which interested persons may borrow if they wish.

Family Service Bureau Report

Part of the chairman's report at the first annual meeting:

The present format of the Family Service Bureau has been in existence since the fall of 1965. At that time 12 very inexperienced people found themselves with the responsibility of seeing that the staff members were able to function efficiently.

Over the past 12 months the most pressing problem has been that of acquiring sufficient funds to run the bureau. As yet this has not been resolved. There is no United Appeal Fund in our area. The necessary funds have come from several sources. These include Catholic Charities of Calgary, town governments, Fraternal and service clubs and our Thrift Shops.

When the Government of Alberta announced the Preventative Social Service program last July, the Board of Directors studied the plan. We came to the conclusion that the communities of the Pass and Pincher Creek would benefit greatly if they were to undertake the program.

Since August we have, along with government representatives been interpreting the Preventative Social Service Act to the involved communities. A number of meetings have been held.

If this agreement materializes we will be eligible for support, thus removing the constant pressure of raising funds. This would free us to concentrate on projects that would further benefit the people of our area.

In the past year we have opened two Thrift Shops. One each in Coleman and Pincher Creek. This was accomplished by a lot of volunteer work from various groups and individuals throughout the area. The shops have filled a need in the area for a used clothing centre. They are run by Mrs. Caroe in Coleman and Mrs. McKenzie in Pincher Creek.

To date the shops have provided free clothing to 20 needy persons and families.

The Bureau also organized a series of lectures on credit buying, wills and common legal problems of the average families.

This Christmas the Bureau organized the making and delivering of Christmas hampers for the needy families of the Pass. Again groups within the community were enlisted to contribute their time and services. The results of this project left us all with a feeling of satisfaction and accomplishment.

There are many things apparent to the Board of Directors that are needed in the area. We hope that in the next year we can organize and initiate the following programs:

- A driving service for the aged and handicapped.
- Lectures by the Home Economist on efficient housekeeping.
- Pre-marital Counselling Program.

Finally, the Board would like to express thanks and appreciation to Sister Leo Agnes and Rev. Harold Coward for the work and contributions they have given our communities. Our communities are much richer having received the gifts these people have given.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all our friends and neighbors for their help, cards of sympathy and their kind expressions during our recent sad bereavement.

Mrs. Agnes Derbyshire and Family.
